- Interventions –have met with students and parents to create expectations of tutoring and after school help to improve grades. Starting with three 1 hour sessions with students during the day. To gain extra time and encouragement to help students increase grade levels.
  - Strategy is of concern about taking students out of career classes and may be detrimental to struggling students and may hinder two classes rather than just one.
  - Would like to survey students to analyze how the intervention process worked, and look at grades to see how well the intervention worked to help students.
- Four teachers went to conference
- School based PD ongoing
- ISA team has been meeting –student access scores to determine which students need help with ELL and will re-designate students who have improved
